

AMIDST COVID-19 CRISIS, REMOTE FIRST NATION COMMUNITIES ARE FACING UNIQUE CHALLENGES WITH FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Communities with little to no access to financial banks are unable to withdraw relief funds as they are needed.

REDUCE FACE-TO-FACE
INTERACTIONS AND BETTER
FACILITATE ONLINE PURCHASES

INCLUDE A PEOPLE FIRST APPROACH BY PROVIDING IMMEDIATE ACCESS TO FUNDS

CURB THE SPREAD OF THE
VIRUS BY REDUCING THE TOUCH
FACTOR WITH CHEQUES

Why Virtual Payment Cards Are An Effective Solution For First Nation Communities

- Digital payments can be made instantly, which is extremely helpful in cases of emergency situations where governments need to distribute relief funds immediately.
- Some First Nation communities do not have the physical housing ability to socially isolate, digital solutions help promote social distancing and reduce face-to-face interactions by enabling individuals to self-isolate.
- Digital technologies like mobile-enabled virtual or physical Visa prepaid cards can be immediately sent to those directly impacted by the COVID-19 crisis, helping to provide access to funds for basic goods and services like food and shelter.
